

How to Play Fairytale Charades

1. Print out the charade cards on regular paper and cut them out.
2. Fold the papers and place them in a bowl.
3. Split into 2 teams.
4. The first team chooses one person to be the actor.
5. The actor chooses a paper from the bowl, but does NOT show anyone. The actor takes a few seconds to think about how to perform what is on the paper and sets the paper aside.
6. The actor acts out what is on the paper, while his/her team guesses. (You may want to set a timer so if you find each round is taking too long.) The actor is not allowed to make any sound. The actor is only allowed to act out the words, without props.
7. When the actor is done, if his/her team has guessed correctly, they get a point. If they have not, the other team can make one guess. If the other team is right, they get a point.
8. When the bowl is out of papers, or when you decide to stop, the team with the most points wins.

Hints:

- To let your team know you are acting out a MOVIE, make a tube with one hand and put it in front of your face. With your other hand, make a cranking motion by your head. (Like an old fashioned movie camera.)
- To let your team know you are acting out a BOOK, place both hands together in front of you, palms up, like you are holding a book.
- To let your team know the NUMBER OF WORDS, hold up the correct number of fingers.
- To let your team know WHICH WORD you are acting out, right after you hold up the number of words, hold up the correct number of fingers for which word you will be acting out (2 fingers for 2 words on the paper, 1 finger for acting out the first word)
- To let your team know they GUESSED CORRECTLY, tap your nose with one finger and point to the person who guessed. This lets your team know they are “right on the nose.”
